Washington State Department of Agriculture

Are you a farmworker or farmworker representative? Take our survey!

For more details about this effort, visit agr.wa.gov.

The Washington State Department of Agriculture (WSDA) invites you to participate in this survey being distributed to farm workers throughout the state. The information gathered will help WSDA better understand the challenges farm workers face in the workplace and the impacts of those challenges on workplace performance and everyday life.